1958 Homecoming Presents Variety

Homecoming activities began with the crowning of the queen, Nancy Tubb, at the Senior class variety show on Oct. 18. The queen's attendants were: Mary Claire Thompson, Great Falls, Mont.; Abbie Berge, Minneapolis; Charlotte Svenningson, Winona; Sylvia Eglinton, Houston, and Jeanne Stegen, Melrose Park, Ill.

Queen Nancy rode in the parade Saturday afternoon holding a Centennial torch which was presented to her by the cross-country team. Twelve runners carried the torch from St. Paul to Winona in 13 hours running time. Robert Scott, captain of the team, received the torch from Attorney General Miles Lord at 10:22 a.m. Friday and ran the first mile with police escort. Shortly after 1 p.m. Saturday the torch was in Winona. Runners were: Scott; John Grude, Richard Mackey, Robert Arko, Mike Riley, James Slifka, Richard Anderson, John Fend, Ken Landro, John Modjeski, Jerry Richman, and Don Klagge. James Voorhees was the faculty adviser.

Fifteen floats and six area bands participated in the parade which was held at 3 p.m. on Saturday. The freshmen float placed first followed by those of the Newman Club and Business Club. The Winona High Band, under the direction of Robert Andrus placed first, while marching units of Lewiston and Fountain City—Cochrane were runners-up. First prize for the baton twirlers went to St. Stanislaus. Parade judges were John Hendrickson, band division, and Mrs. L. L. Jack Pickett, floats.

Approximately 450 students, faculty, alumni, and guests attended the Homecoming Dance held in the Smog Saturday evening after the game. Al Noyce and his orchestra played for the event.

WSC Students Take Part In Centennial Play

A number of WSC students will take part in "Minnesota", the original musical drama by Cliff Sakry, Minneapolis playwright and composer. The drama will be presented at the Winona Senior High School Auditorium Nov. 18 to 23 as a highlight of the Minnesota Statehood Centennial. Cast members named thus far include Deanna Harders as Julie; Norbert Mills, Torger-son; Tom Chandler, Cooney; John Breitlow, Andre; Randal Stuckel, Jerry; and Jane Drenkhahn, Charlotte Grof, and Gail Darrah.

Mrs. Roger Carroll, the former Marie Miller, 1957 WSC graduate who was named Miss Minnesota of 1956, will sing the leading role, Christina.

Nancy Reigns at Homecoming

Nancy Tubb, State's 1958 Homecoming Queen, was crowned on Oct. 17 by one of her former roommates, Connie Gislason, the 1957 queen.

Like Connie, Nancy was the W Club candidate, and is also the same age (20) and height (5' 4") as Connie was when she was crowned.

Nancy was selected on the stage by football captain, John Ganga, and escorted to the throne. "I was so happy, I was smiling, but the tears were running down my cheeks," were the words she later used to describe her coronation. "I couldn't believe it was really happening to me."

A kindergarten-primary major, her favorite extra-curricular activity is dancing, and Nancy has appeared in many campus shows both as a dancer and as a choreographer. She abandoned her crown shortly after she received it—but only for a few minutes—to dance a number in this year's variety show.

Nancy was a founder of the Warriorettes, and has guided and directed them through their first year as a sharp, snappy drill and dance team.

Honored to be chosen queen, Nancy was also thrilled that her parents, from Buffalo, New York, could be here and witness her coronation.

"I thank everyone who worked on my campaign, and especially the W Club for sponsoring me," was her gracious acknowledgement to those who elected her Queen.

Variety Show Presented Piano-Humorist Entertains Students

A take-off on the "Tonight Show" was the theme of the Senior Class Variety Show presented in Somsen Auditorium on the evening of Oct. 17. A panel consisting of Jack Paar, Richard Goetzman; Charlie Beaver, Robert Klein; and Johnny Parson, Norman Toensing conducted the show and introduced the various acts. Burton Ferrier was director and faculty adviser was Mr. J. Reidelberger.

Henry L. Scott entertained WSC students at an assembly on Oct. 13. His selections ranged from jazz to the classics. True to his billing of piano-humorist, he inserted plenty of humor into his program. At one time he played one song with his right hand, another with his left, and whistled a third. He used his most famous prop, his mittens, to play one selection.

College Entertains Parents

The fourth annual Parent's Day program sponsored by the College Public Relations committee and the Joint Social Committee, will be observed at Winona State College on Saturday, November 1.

TV Physics Course Offered

A television course in physics is now being offered by Winona State College. It is being presented through the National Broadcasting Company in cooperation with the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Training and the Fund for Advancement of Education. Five credit hours will be awarded to the student upon completion.

The course began on October 6 and can be viewed locally over Channel 10, KROC-TV from Rochester, 6:30 a.m. to 7, five days a week through June 5. The coordinator here at WSC is Dr. D. Harold Bowman.

Students taking this course report to the college on Saturday mornings every other week. Meetings last three hours during which time the students receive tests and laboratory work.

MEA Convenes

Norman Cousins and Pauline Frederick highlighted the Minnesota Education Association convention held in Minneapolis on Oct. 23 and 24.

The first session on Oct. 23 was addressed by Norman Cousins, whose topic was "Reflections on the Brink". Mr. Cousins is the present editor of The Saturday Review. Mayor Kenneth Peterson of Minneapolis and Rufus A. Putnam, Superintendent of Minneapolis Public Schools, gave addresses of welcome.

The second general session began on Oct. 23. An address of greeting was given by Governor Orville L. Freeman. Pauline Frederick gave the main speech, "Victory or Peace". Miss Frederick is United Nation's correspondent for NBC News. Open meetings of the various sections were held in the afternoon.

"Carrousel" was the theme of 1958 Homecoming Dance held Oct. 18 in the Smog. Couples take time out for refreshments during intermission.

One of the nicest things about Neanderthal Man was the fact that he was an unpretentious soul. Whenever one Neanderthal happened to dislike another, he simply watched for his opportunity, and clouted the other on the head. It was even more simple when a group formed an aversion to an individual or to a smaller group: there was no need to wait for an opportunity; the majority simply clouted the minority.

The unpretentious feature was this: everyone took this pattern for granted, and, consequently, no one apologized for it or attempted to justify it. No one loudly proclaimed the necessity to protect the rights and the purity of the True Neanderthals against an undesirable element. No one claimed that the Fire God was on their side. They simply clouted people they didn't like.

Since prehistoric times, of course, human nature hasn't basically changed. It has, however, become more complicated. Unfortunately, this complication has resulted in a loss of the old unpretentious spirit of Neanderthal Man. First of all, there has been a considerable decline in individual activity of this violent nature, while group activity has surged remarkably. Today, we have some splendid examples of violence resulting from group antagonisms. Perhaps this change is due to modern man's increased desire for the anonymity that accompanies membership in a large and loosely organized group.

But the most noticeable loss is the need men feel today for justifying their actions. Every Southern white gentleman has a dozen Bible verses handy to prove that he has a Divine Mandate to spit on Negroes. The people who are blowing up synagogues throughout the country carry the Cross of Christ along with their bombs. In short, no one is satisfied any more with clouting anyone he doesn't like; he has to try to convince everyone else that he's in the right, too.

Another indication of this same trend is the inability modern man exhibits to take criticism of his violent actions. No Neanderthals ever worried about what the people in the next valley thought about their forcing an unwanted group out of their own caves and feeding them to the sabre-toothed tigers. Today, however, things are so bad that an Alabama lady wrote a pathetic letter to the editors of Newsweek saying that the way the rest of the country was criticizing the Southerners and making fun of their attempts to maintain their tradition, the people of the South were beginning to feel like the Hungarians who took part in the recent, ill-fated revolt.

A return to Neanderthal self-consciousness to accompany our Neanderthal violence is imperative. A lot of riots never got started today because the rabble-rousers are too busy justifying

Teachers: Great Or Popular

Is the great teacher a "popular" teacher?

Almost never, says the essayist and critic Clifton Fadiman, writing in the October issue of Holiday magazine.

"He is interested in something more important than winning the affections of an unending anonymous procession of young people," Fadiman says. "The 'beloved' teacher-image is part of our American sentimental mythology: it expresses our willingness to pay homage to education provided it be painless—that is, noneducational. I have long maintained that any college can raise its standards simply by firing annually whichever professor is 'Best Liked' by the graduating class."

Fadiman says the great teacher does not bother to 'love' or 'understand' his students; he bothers to love their minds and understand their understandings.

HOLIDAY IN CUBA

(The following are excerpts from a report written by Mrs. Helen Langmo concerning her impressions of a trip to Cuba led by Mr. E. Davis of the Social Studies Department last summer. Mrs. Langmo is a graduate of WSC and is an elementary teacher in Plainview.)

If you are seeking a trip that is really different and exciting go to Cuba. Among the many interesting places to visit in Cuba is the capitol building, which covers two city blocks. The style of the reception hall is Italian Renaissance and the pilasters or columns are of the richest Italian marble from the Alps. The dimensions of the hall are 400 feet in length and 45 feet in width, making it one of the largest halls of its kind in the world. Beautiful bronze doors at the ends of the hall weigh two and a half tons each. They rest on three ball bearing hinges, perfectly balanced and smoothly swung. Inside the capitol the lighting system is perfect. It is composed of 32 candelabras of bronze, located and distributed at each side of the hall and indirect lighting system concealed by the cornice. The beautiful ceiling is carefully decorated in delicate hand painting, finished in 28 carat gold leaf.

A magnificent diamond serves as the "mileage stone of Cuba". It is located in the center of the capitol reception hall and sets the starting point of the Central Highway, marking the zero kilometer. The diamond comes from Kimberly Mines in South Africa. It weighs exactly 24 carats. It is mounted on a gold ring set in a pure black onyx base of octagonal shape and is considered a pure white diamond.

The historical Old Section of Havana is soon going to play an important role because of the tremendous development of the whole city of Havana. Old Havana is the heart of all the major financial activities, equivalent in proportion to New York's Wall Street. All the banks, stock brokers, insurance companies and investment companies have their main offices there.

Adding to Old Havana's importance, a tunnel has just been completed under Havana Bay connecting this section with a completely new city which is in the making called "Havana of the East". Havana of the East has tremendous possibilities. It features beautiful landscapes, beaches, new roads, building projects, and a fantastic modern city. Old Havana has that priceless treasure that can only be acquired through the years. It has a number of beautiful old buildings and quaint streets. Old Havana is the backbone of the city with its historic, majestic, and traditional dignity.

Most of the people in Cuba are very sociable, happy, and hospitable. Many of the Cuban women carry umbrellas to keep their light skin from getting tan. Eighty-five per cent of the people are Catholic.

Cuba presents an irresistible, all-year round lure to any tourist. I think the most experienced traveler will be won over quickly by the varied attractions of Havana where the gay spirit of its people is ever present. Columbus called Cuba "the most beautiful land that human eyes have ever seen".

...And Don't Say We Should Walk

IT'S A MESS! That seems to be the general consensus about the parking problem around the college. There is something to be said for foreign cars while desperately looking for a parking place at 7:58 a.m. (Of course, whether you are desperate or not depends on what 8:00 class you have.)

This problem has become so serious that recent suggestions have included installing parking meters (the money to be used to subsidize the Smog). There is also a popular movement under way to tear down Somsen Hall and install a deluxe parking lot. But leave it to the Phelps' children to come to the rescue of at least one motorist. In a burst of civic enthusiasm these parkers-of-tomorrow simply picked up a Volkswagen and gently set it down on the boulevard. Solutions like that, however ingenious they may seem, are obviously not the answer.

President Minné suggested to the Winona City Council that designated streets in the vicinity of the college be marked off for some method of parking. The City Street Department, too busy to do it now, has offered to send some men to supervise if the college will supply the workers. Still undecided is the question of how the streets should be marked off. Should there be parallel parking on both sides of the street, diagonal parking on one side of the street and parking prohibited on the other, or diagonal parking on one side and parallel parking on the other? Because the college at present does not have the manpower to do its own marking, it looks as though the problem will be deferred until spring. Meanwhile it's something to think about over that cup of coffee in the Smog, or while walking from your parked car to school.

This paper is published by students for the students, faculty, and alumni of Winona State College. It's your chance to sound off! Your opinions and criticisms concerning campus life will be appreciated.

WSC Takes 35-12 Lacing In Homecoming

Harriers Red-Hot

The Winona State Harriers have had a very successful season. This is the team's first year and they have really shown competitiveness. The Harriers have won five of their six meets. Although they have never taken a first place position, the team has the balance to win their meets. Their last league meet is on Oct. 29 with Luther and Loras.

In cross-country running the team who scores the low number of point wins the meet. The average course is three or four miles long. The courses in this area generally are a little shorter.

The mainstays of the team have been Capt. Bob Scott, John Gruden, Bob Arko, Dave Cole, John Modjeski, John Fend, Jim Slifka, and Dick Anderson. Other members are Mike Riley, Jerry Eichman, and Ken Landro.

In cross-country running there are seven members of each team who complete the course. Besides being an exciting sport, it is a good conditioner for the track men in the spring.

On Nov. 4 the team has its last home meet with Wartburg, Iowa at Lake Park.

The Lights Are Shinin'!

Maxwell Field Stadium has finally come back into the ranks of the night football games, after an absence of two years.

The first game played under the new arcs was the late Homecoming game with Mankato State College.

Comments on the new lighting facilities at the field after the game ranged from "very nice" and "swell deal", to "a real modern setup" and "It sure helps the visitors".

The seven steel poles were lifted and set on concrete bases by Swanson Heavy Moving Co., La Crosse. After the poles went into their respective positions, a large crane proceeded to uproot each of the wooden poles of the old lighting system.

Before being raised, crossbars and lights were installed on the poles. Transformers also are on the poles, except for two on the west side of the gridiron which are housed in concrete under the stands. The adjustment and aiming of the lights was completed by a representative of the manufacturer working from prepared charts.

The seven poles are arranged with four on the west side and three on the east side of the field. One of the east side poles near midfield is 90 feet high and holds 24 lights. Other poles are 80 feet high, 12 arc structures.

Mankato '58 NSCC Football Champs

The Northern State College Conference, in its first year of operation, has hit a snag, and a few complaints may be lodged before next season's schedule is ready. Look for the fireworks during this coming winter's hot stove sessions.

The Mankato State College Indians have taken the "bundle." Winona State, St. Cloud, and Michigan Tech all had two games left, and Moorhead and Bemidji each had to play one more conference tilt — all this prevailed after MSC had finished their slate and clinched the NSCC championship by finishing undefeated.

Since the day the Indians trounced Winona for the title, 35-12, the results of all those remaining games to be played by other schools has had no effect on the championship. Listen for the almost certain oncoming repercussions from teams throughout the loop.

Winona's football coach, Mado Molinari, when asked about the scheduling setup responsible for MSC's success, voiced strong dissatisfaction with it.

Molinari and other coaches in the circuit were then faced with the problem, and a problem it was, of keeping their respective squads "up" for the remaining conference games, which of course meant nothing except whether you chalked one up in the win or loss column.

Beavers Humble Local Gridders

Winona State's record fell to 3-3-1 last Saturday night at Bemidji as they were clobbered 38-13.

Coach Mado Molinari gives the reason of an inexperienced secondary for the bad showing. Fumbles galore and the injuries to key personnel also accounted for the loss.

The Peds drew first blood as they gained a 7-0 lead in the contest, but relinquished it early and the Beavers stayed in command the rest of the way.

The whole Bemidji attack came by fullback Guy Vena, and halfback Bob Price. Between the two of them they scored all but two of their squad's total points.

Local scoring came on touchdowns via a Wayne Asing to King Miller pass, and a Lorry Gunhus recovery of a Bemidji fumble in the opponent's end zone. A placement by Arnie Satter was the only PAT made good by the Warriors.

The next and the season's last game, is a conference affair with Michigan Tech. Tech is supposedly reported to be on a par with WSC. Time — 2 p.m. at Maxwell Stadium.

OUT O' THE WAY INJUN!; seems to say Winona State halfback, Dick Brown (24), as he turns the corner for a long scamper in the Oct. 18 Homecoming game. Mankato State lineman, Tom Musser (73) looks to make the attempt to halt the Warrior back. MSC won 35-12.

WSC Pigskin Record Is 3-3-1

The Warriors played four games since last issue, losing to Huron 19-8 here and then tying with St. Cloud 6-6 at St. Cloud.

Here at Jefferson stadium Oct. 4, Huron scored on the first play from scrimmage when Henley took a handoff and scampered 54 yards. Paoletti booted the PAT and Huron, with less than one minute gone in the game, led 7-0.

The Warriors tallied their only score in the game early in the second quarter when, after a series of plays that started from the Huron 21, Brown plunged over from the two. Welch then ran into the end zone and Winona led 8-7.

Huron regained the lead with 2:17 left in the first half when Edwards went over from the five. Paoletti's kick missed. The scoring ended in the third quarter when Henley went 48 yards for the TD and made the final score 19-8 — Huron.

Our Warriors fared a little better as they tied 6-6 with St. Cloud at Huskyville. Both teams played good defensive ball and battled the first half and most of the third period without a score.

Late in the third quarter St. Cloud took a 6-0 lead as Bob Swatosh plunged over from the one. Dave Eischelweck blocked the PAT attempt.

Winona then took the kickoff and drove 55 yards with Wayne Asing going over on a sneak. The Warriors went for the two points but St. Cloud stopped Dick Brown short of the goal line and the score was 6-6.

Less than three minutes were left in the game when Winona tried a field goal attempt. Bobby Welch's dropkick was blocked and St. Cloud ran out the clock. The final score was 6-6.

HARRIERS DELIVER TORCH

The long-distance runners covered the 120 miles from St. Paul to Winona well ahead of schedule. They had planned to arrive just in time for the 3 p.m. Homecoming parade, but instead the group trotted down Huff Street off Highway 61 shortly after 1 p.m.

Total running time was about 13 hours instead of the estimated 17. One of the factors in the faster time was the decision to run one mile at a time instead of two. Average time for each mile was about 5½ minutes.

The harriers ran from St. Paul straight to Lake City after getting the torch from Att. Gen. Miles Lord on the steps of the State Capitol.

After arriving at Lake City, they drove back to Red Wing and stayed at a hotel overnight. The next morning they drove back to Lake City and continued running to Winona.

Jim Voorhees was the adviser for the running event.

'Kato Victors While Taking NSCC Crown

The Warriors suffered their first conference defeat as the Mankato Indians defeated them 35-12 in winning the Northern States College Conference championship. Saturday, Oct. 18, at Maxwell Field, a capacity crowd saw the Warriors completely outclassed in the second half of their Homecoming game.

The Indians took a 6-0 lead early in the first quarter when Stan Kuzkuzka, after a series of plays that totaled 70 yards, went over for the touchdown. Later in the same quarter the Warriors came back to even up the game when Dick Brown punched over from the eight.

By the time the first half was over, Mankato's Hassett had put the Indians ahead 12-7. Kazkuzka made it 13-7 on the conversion. The third Mankato touchdown was set up when the Warriors fumbled on their own 3 yard line. Four plays later from scrimmage Hassett scored again. Going 18 yards this time, he made the score 19-6. The kick was blocked.

In the fourth period of play, Jim Seidel dove over from the three, and a pass from Seliza to Larentzen for two points made the score 27-6. A short time later Seidel tallied his second touchdown of the night on a 67 yard run up the middle. The score, 33-6. Then Seliza ran the ball into the end zone for two more, and Mankato led 35-6.

With 58 seconds left in the ball game the Warriors tallied the final score. Winona fell on a fumble at the Indian's 16 yard line, and a penalty of 15 yards for a personal foul moved the ball to the one. Bill Morse then sneaked over for the TD. The conversion was not made, and the final score had the Locals losing 35-12.

Newman Club

Plans are being made for the Region II Newman Club convention which will be held here on Nov. 8 and 9.

The purpose of the convention is to promote spiritual activities and to acquaint local members with members from various sections of the country.

Most of the convention classes will meet at WSC. A banquet at the Oaks will end the convention.

General chairman for the convention is James Scherber; other committee chairmen include: Mary Claire Thompson and Thomas Franklin, accommodations; Helen Backus, panels; and Diane Feuerhelm, invitations and registration.

Newman Club officers for the year 1958-59 are: Daniel Kilkelly, president; Marlyce Nyberg, vice-president; Yvonne McNallan, secretary; James Andrzejek, treasurer; Mike Porter and Elene Loecher, social committee co-chairmen; and Dorothy Kieffer, publicity chairman.

Bradford Club

At a recent meeting, Bradford Club conducted a round-table discussion on dating.

The club held a car wash behind the Congregational Church on Oct. 4. This proved to be quite a successful event.

Dr. Luther Gulick showed slides on and gave a talk about his summer trip to Europe at a joint meeting of Bradford Club and Canterbury Club on Oct. 16.

Young Republicans

Members of the Winona State College Young Republicans addressed letters for Representative Al Quie at their Oct. 21 meeting. The project now under way is to distribute posters depicting the state's Republican candidates for office in the Nov. 4 election.

President Darrell Bearson concluded the meeting by explaining the details of the absentee ballot and by encouraging the members to exercise their right to vote.

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club joined with the Bradford Club for a joint social meeting on Oct. 16 at the Congregational Church.

Dr. Gulick showed his slides which he took on his trip to Europe this summer. Refreshments were served after his talk.

The Canterbury Club meets every Thursday evening at 7 p.m. Three meetings a month are devoted to group discussions. Topics discussed so far include "Christianity—Is It a Luxury or a Necessity?" and "What Is a Christian?". One meeting a month will be a social meeting or a breakfast after corporate communion.

This year's officers are: Richard Fenwick, president; Willis Fleenor, vice-president; and Sally Hartle, secretary-treasurer.

Warriorettes

The Warriorettes gave their first performance of the year at the homecoming game.

They appeared in their new uniforms consisting of white skirts worn over purple tights with purple and white jackets. The finishing touches were white headbands and white gloves.

The first formation was that of a football to the music of the band playing "You've Got to be a Football Hero." The second formation, HI, was a greeting to the opposing team, Mankato. While the band played the school song, the girls formed a large W. The final formation of the half-time performance was a chorus line dance.

English Club

At its October meeting, the club learned from Mary Claire Thompson that the sale of mums during Homecoming did not appear to be a complete financial success, although returns were not complete. A drive to enlist new freshmen members in the club was started.

A proposal from student groups at St. Teresa's College and St. Mary's College to hold a joint symposium to read and discuss term papers with the WSC English Club was considered.

Mason Music

A senior student, Don Stow, was elected secretary at the Oct. 20 meeting of Mason Music Club.

The meeting ended with the group listening to a musical tape recording.

Dolphin Club

The Dolphin Swim Club will present a Parents Day Show on Nov. 1 at 7:30 p.m. The show which will be a sketch of swim activities at WSC, will be performed in the Memorial Hall pool. All students are urged to invite their parents and their families.

Freshmen Get Hoops Into Orbit

'Midst weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth, Hell Week dragged interminably to its climax. By the end of the week the freshmen were unable to tell if they were coming or going, because they were wearing their clothes backwards. Other minor inconveniences inflicted on them were wearing two different pairs of shoes and socks, pigtailed, and the omnipresent beanies.

Wenonah Players

Thirty-five Alumni and active members of Wenonah Players attended the annual Homecoming Luncheon at the Hotel Winona Saturday afternoon, Oct. 18.

Two past presidents, Muriel Suttie and Pat Severson, were in attendance. Pat traveled the longest distance, from Neenah, Wis., to attend the luncheon.

Neal Lang, Player's president introduced the alumni and the new members. Old members and officers were then introduced. Mr. Reidelberger was called upon to say a few words, and the program was concluded by Miss Magnus who reviewed the activities of the organization in the past year. She also spoke briefly of her theater experiences on her trip around the world this past summer. Following the luncheon active and alumni members enjoyed an informal social hour.

Westminster Foundation

The Westminster Foundation held a work meeting on Oct. 23. Currently the group is working on a simulated stained glass window project. The idea for this project was brought back by club adviser, Mrs. Fae Griffith, from the National Conference of United Presbyterian Women, which was held at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. When the project is completed, the group will use the window, which has for its theme: "He is Lord of all", as a background for devotional meetings.

At the Oct. 16 meeting, Gary Bundy and Cecil Mulholland lead a discussion on leisure time. The club reached the decision that one really has more leisure time than he realizes. Another point brought out in the discussion was that leisure time must be planned in order to receive the most benefit from it.
